ABSTRACT

The publication of this bibliography on "Women" is an appropriate event in that it closely follows the passage of the law which for the first time permits women to enter the United States Military Academy in its 173 year history. Over 500 titles are presently extant in the USMA Library collection on the subject of women, representing woman's role in the past and present. Women are depicted in all walks of life including the military. The importance of women in different countries and diverse cultures is discussed throughout the literature and the arts. Emancipation, suffrage, physical and psychological factors pertaining to women are all reflected in the writing presented in this bibliography. Finally the history of the legal and political rights of women is covered in full. Included in the listing are books by and about Susan B. Anthony, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Jane Addams, Julia Ward Howe, Simone de Beauvior, Margaret Mead, Germaine Greer and Betty Friedan. (Author)

FOREWORD

The publication of this bibliography on "Women" is an appropriate event in that it closely follows the passage of the law which for the first time permits women to enter the United States Military Academy in its 173 year history.

Over 500 titles are presently extant in the USMA Library collection on the subject of Women, representing woman's role in the past and present. Women are depicted in all walks of life including the military. The importance of women in different countries and diverse cultures is discussed throughout the literature and the arts. Emancipation, suffrage, physical and psychological factors pertaining to women are all reflected in the writing presented in this bibliography. Finally the history of the legal and political rights of women is covered in full.

You will find books by and about Susan B. Anthony, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Jane Addams, Julia Ward Howe, Simone de Beauvoir, Margaret Mead, Germaine Greer, Betty Friedan, and many others included in this list. The range of feminist literature covered by this bibliography reflects the Military Academy's long standing interest in and concern with the activities of women. The military history of our nation bears a strong relationship to the social and economic history of our country. The strength of women has added to the evolution of the American way of life throughout history and the Army has long recognized the contribution they have made. The current women's movement is a logical progression in the history of our society.
